

Friends of Broadwater and Worthing Cemetery

“The Friends” are a group of local volunteers, formed in 2008, who are committed to looking after this Victorian cemetery in South Farm Road and preserving the history contained within it.

We are a friendly bunch and will welcome with open arms, anyone with time to spare to help us. That help can take many forms and is greatly appreciated whether you have just a couple of hours to spare or are happy to commit to regular involvement.

Alongside help with clearing ivy, cutting back shrubs and brambles and other general maintenance tasks there are also opportunities to carry out research into the lives of people buried there or to help, in the summer, with our monthly tour mornings (manning the book stall, helping with refreshments, leading tours etc.) We also produce booklets to accompany all of our tours.

Our annual membership fee is just £3 and includes our informative and entertaining newsletter The Broadsheet which is produced three times a year. We work hard but we also have a lot of fun.

For details of all of our meetings and tour days please visit our website www.fbwc.co.uk and click on the link for Activities

To contact us click on Contact Us on the website or ring 07932687315*

Aerial photograph courtesy of Eddie Mitchell and The Worthing Journal