The Worthing property market presents diverse development opportunities. The residential market has been buoyant with a number of major schemes recently completed. There is considerable potential to expand the retail and leisure offer, with particular opportunities for a new cinema, bars and restaurants. The town's visitor economy remains a real strength and offers scope for new hotels, as well as expanding the active leisure market such as gyms, watersports and other fitness facilities.

A strong partnership between Worthing Borough Council, West Sussex County Council and a growing range of private sector investors is committed to delivery of major development opportunities within the town. Millions of pounds of investment are already being delivered and transforming the area, so we invite you to share in the unrivalled investment opportunities that the town now offers.

This reflects not only that Worthing is a great place to do business but also increasing numbers of entrepreneurs and young families are choosing to call Worthing 'home' and establish new businesses and places to work locally. Over the next twenty years, Worthing is expected to grow by 11,000 jobs across a broad-based economy that offers opportunities for businesses of all types and sizes.

OUR PLAN

Worthing has an unrivalled selection of available development sites which present exciting opportunities for new residential, retail, leisure and other commercial floorspace that can help realise the town's bold vision.

With an ambition for high quality design and integration of the historic fabric of the existing town centre, and supported by a wider strategy of public realm improvements, these sites offer investors world-class development opportunities and secure long-term returns.

Collectively the site development ideas presented over the following pages offer potential for an estimated 1,000 new homes and nearly 3,000 new jobs phased over the next 10 years. Local partners want to work with investors to help realise this potential and to forge an even more exciting future for Worthing. In return you will receive supportive civic and political leadership, a positive planning framework, and public sector support where necessary.

If you haven't considered Worthing before, now's the time to see what you are missing out on – come on in, the water's lovely!

STREETS AND PLACES

Worthing is unique in being able to offer a range of exciting development sites that will together transform the look and feel of the town over the next decade. Equally important are the opportunities to enhance the public realm and connections which link these sites.

Significant improvements have already been delivered during recent years, including enhancements to the seafront and improved cycling and pedestrian access. In 2016, work will commence on a £1.2 million public realm upgrade in Montague Place, the town's busiest shopping thoroughfare.

Working in partnership with public resources, there are real opportunities for investors to add value to the town's quality of place, sense of arrival and ease of movement for pedestrians, cyclists and other road users. This attention to detail will not only directly benefit the local community and businesses, but will enhance and protect the long-term value of investments made within the town.

Junction case study

The plans to left show changes to improve the pedestrian and cycle environment along North Street. The space available has been reordered, within the existing highway, with more space given over to cycles and pedestrians. Roundabouts are replaced with a layout more appropriate to an urban setting.

-  New connecting routes
-  Key sites
-  A joined up strategy of public realm projects

Below is an artists impression of Montague Place which is a key location where the town centre should connect strongly with the sea front. This will be achieved by improving the public realm and establishing a better connection across Marine Parade. There is also an opportunity for a slim infill building which would create active frontage whilst maintaining the important open character of this space, improving the outlook of the historic terrace opposite.

TEVILLE GATE

A major landmark development site at the gateway to the town, located close to main road routes and just 250 metres from the railway station. The site offers potential to create a new mixed-use neighbourhood comprising residential, retail, leisure and other commercial uses, and a new public space creating new pedestrian linkages between the town centre and railway station. A phased development supported by land assembly would maximise the potential of the location.

The site offers potential to reinvigorate this part of the town centre, building on the successful evening economy offer of nearby Warwick Street. Prominent street frontages on two sides provide the opportunity for prime new retail and leisure accommodation, with adjoining residential. A larger phased development could be facilitated through the inclusion of adjoining land.

The location is ideally suited for delivery of modern retail and leisure space, with associated residential development in a highly central location. This is a unique and complex site that can offer significant rewards through an innovative approach to design and land use.

CIVIC SITE

This site lies at the heart of Worthing's civic hub set within a leafy area on the edge of the main shopping precincts. The site has few constraints with potential to consolidate and rationalise existing public sector functions set around the existing Council offices and listed art gallery. A more efficient use of the site will allow residential uses to be introduced in a way that helps assimilate the site into the established residential streets which are adjoining.

READY TO DELIVER

This Prospectus previews just some of the exciting opportunities that Worthing has to offer, and we are asking potential investors and developers to join us as we embark on realising a bold new vision for the town. Together these sites could deliver over 1,000 new homes and nearly 3,000 jobs.

We know that lots of places sell a promise that they are 'open for business', but in Worthing we recognise that achieving successful investment and enterprise is a two-way process. It is not just enough to be open for business, it requires pooling resources, know-how and creative energy to make things happen.

Therefore, the Council and other local partners are offering a 'ready to deliver' commitment which is already generating interest in the town. In practice, this means investors in Worthing can expect:

- Direct contact with Council leaders and senior officers
- A dedicated Economy Directorate with an experienced cross-disciplinary team
- Flexible approaches to planning, development and tenure mix
- Willingness to use public sector land assets directly and indirectly
- A 'commercial' approach and pro-active land assembly if required
- Leveraging public funding where available and developing business cases.

There is much that is great about Worthing already, but we know it has the potential to be even greater. This is a unique opportunity and we are committed to working with you to make it happen. The surf's up, so it's time to jump in!
